Note: Games against junior colleges have not counted in the Jennies' win-loss record since 1982, but any played since then are included solely for historical purposes whenever possible. Most games that went less than seven innings were called because of either a run rule or a time limit.

*Interim coach while Martin was on academic leave of absence. *MIAA North Division finish. DNP Indicates Did Not Place. Note: The Jennies began competing in the Mid-America Intercollegiate Athletics Association (formerly Missouri Intercollegiate Athletic Association) during the 1982 season, which was also their final season as members of the Association of Intercollegiate Athletics for Women on the state (Missouri AIAW), region (Region VI) and national (Division II) levels. They finished third in the final Missouri AIAW Tournament in 1982, then won the inaugural MIAA Tournament later that same season. They then began competing on the NCAA Division II level in 1983. MIAA regular-season games are used only to determine the pairings and seedings for the league's post-season tournament, which determines the conference champion.
