CHARNO AWARDS

The Charno Award is presented annually to the top two citizens of the University of Central Missouri. The honor is named after George Charno, Sr., a Kansas City attorney who established the award in 1940 to recognize the two outstanding members of the senior class. Selection is based on a combination of criteria, which include: leadership, scholarship, character, involvement in campus organizations and extracurricular activities, service to the university, and involvement in one's academic department.

Announced during the Spring 2025 semester, this year's recipients are Marie Hall, of Grain Valley, Missouri, and Alyssa Robertson, of Clinton, Missouri.

Marie Hall

Marie Hall, an Anthropology major, has excelled in leadership, academia and community involvement. She took full advantage of every opportunity presented to her while studying at the University of Central Missouri.

She served as President of Central Missouri Academic Collegiate Scholars, a member of the Blue Springs City Theatre board, and Communications Officer of the National Society of Collegiate Scholars. She has also been actively involved in numerous other organizations throughout her college career, including the Honors College, Clay Club, Symphonic Band, and Marching Mules. She is an engaged member of her department with membership in the Anthropology Club, Lambda Alpha, the American Anthropological Association, and the Society for East Asian Anthropology, to name just a few.

Her schedule has been busy the last four years because Hall is passionate about being involved, meeting new people and trying new things. She participated in dozens of activities on and off campus and took every Anthropology course offered at UCM in an effort to learn everything she could from department faculty.

Hall has been employed at the McClure Archives and University Museum, as a Housing Community Advisor and as a substitute teacher in the Grain Valley School District.

Remarkably, she has accomplished all of this while achieving a perfect 4.0 cumulative and departmental grade point average.

Alyssa Robertson

Alyssa Robertson, an Agricultural Science major, is an incredibly accomplished student who has been actively involved in the campus and community in numerous ways.

She has served in several leadership positions during her time at the University of Central Missouri, including President and Public Relations Officer of Collegiate Farm Bureau, Vice President of Delta Tau Alpha, and Secretary of the Collegiate Cattlemen's Club. She has been a member of numerous clubs and organizations both on and off campus, including The Ellis Foundation, Agriculture Future of America, and the National FFA Organization. During her time with these organizations, she participated in several activities that benefited the community.

Embracing leadership roles and participating in valuable experiences in and out of the classroom have helped Robertson grow during her time at UCM. She's passionate about helping people, whether through encouraging other club officers and members, serving the community or talking to legislators about challenges facing the agriculture industry.

She has been employed at the Mule Post and completed internships at the Missouri Department of Agriculture and Dairy Farmers of America.

While balancing all of these commitments, she has consistently maintained an excellent grade point average.

BYLER DISTINGUISHED FACULTY AWARD

Named after William H. Byler, an inventor, author and teacher who graduated from UCM in 1927, the Byler Distinguished Faculty Award is the highest recognition bestowed upon university faculty members. Byler established an endowment fund to provide annual recognition for distinguished faculty performance, evidenced by teaching, scholarly or creative activity, and professional service. This year's recipient is Dr. Yuankun Yao, professor of Educational Foundations and Literacy.

Dr. Yuankun Yao

Colleagues at UCM said Yuankun Yao, Ph.D., exemplifies the qualities of an outstanding educator, researcher, and professional. He joined UCM in 2003 as an assistant professor in the Department of Curriculum and Instruction, ascending the ranks to associate professor in 2008 and professor in 2013. He is currently a professor in the Department of Educational Foundations and Literacy, coordinator of the Master of Arts in Teaching and coordinator of the Master of Science in Education, Curriculum, and Instruction.

His journey as an educator is characterized by continuous growth and a commitment to refining his teaching practices. Yao has spent time observing middle and high school classrooms to enhance his understanding of assessment strategies, which he integrated into his courses. He has also continued attending workshops and earning certifications to further his learning. Yao's ongoing efforts have contributed to a positive student learning experience.

His commitment to education includes his own scholarly achievements, including a strong record of publications in reputable educational journals and books, with a focus on educational assessment and teacher education. Yao has also contributed to the academic publishing community through peer review and editorial roles. He has also presented extensively at national, regional, and international conferences and has been involved in several professional organizations.

Yao has played an active role in serving UCM beyond his role as a professor.

At the university level, he has contributed to Faculty Senate committees, including roles on the General Education, Research Council, and Arbitration committees and leadership positions such as co-chairing the Distance Education and Personnel Policies committees. At the college level, he has been deeply involved in strategic initiatives, tenure and promotion processes, and accreditation efforts, including twice chairing the College of Education Tenure and Promotion Committee and serving as President of the Faculty Assembly. He has led curriculum development at the department level, chaired multiple search committees, and coordinated assessment efforts for a decade.

Yao has received numerous awards while at UCM, including the Distinguished Faculty Award for the College of Education in 2017-18 and the Governor's Excellence in Education Award in 2018-19.

Colleagues who wrote in support of Yao's nomination said he is a remarkable force for leadership, problem-solving, and community building through his service. College of Education faculty members see Yao as a true leader and an excellent research partner. He frequently collaborates closely with other faculty members, including established professionals and newer educators, which helps them develop as quality scholars in their own right.

Over the years, students have also praised Yao's passion and dedication. Courses on research and assessment can seem daunting, yet Yao injects humor, relevance, and structure into his classes to encourage student confidence. Through course evaluations, students noted their professor had high standards and expectations, but he paired that with clear, concise and knowledgeable instruction. Numerous students said Yao was always available to answer questions or offer support, and more than one mentioned his willingness to assist them over the weekend.

GOVERNOR'S AWARD FOR EXCELLENCE IN EDUCATION

The Governor's Award for Excellence in Education is an annual recognition initiative established by the Missouri Coordinating Board for Higher Education. In recognizing honorees, the awards program considers criteria such as effective teaching and advising, innovative course design and delivery, service to the university community, commitment to high standards of excellence, and success in nurturing student achievement. This year's award goes to Dr. Natalie Tye, associate professor of Early Childhood and Elementary Education.

Dr. Natalie Tye

Natalie Tye, Ph.D., has dedicated herself to excellence in higher education by continuously refining her teaching practice, aligning her curriculum with current research, and preparing her students for the demands of the teaching profession.

Tye, a two-time alumna of UCM, joined the university in 2004 and now serves as an associate professor of Early Childhood and Elementary Education and the undergraduate program coordinator for Early Childhood Education and Elementary Education. She previously served as the graduate program coordinator for Early Childhood Education.

Tye has been innovative in creating new courses and revamping existing offerings. She created two new courses for first-year teacher education students to help them acclimate to the education program, the building, the faculty and their peers. Students strengthen their bonds with peers and faculty, resulting in deeper, more meaningful connections and a desire to stay in college. Tye also adapts her delivery methods to align with how students learn best, whether through engaging technology, hands-on learning activities or small-group discussions.

Being an advisor and mentor is a crucial part of Tye's role as an educator, going beyond helping with class schedules and graduation plans. Tye works closely with UCM's student support services as she helps guide students in their successful program completion. When meeting with a student who expressed personal challenges, Tye set aside course-related issues and focused on connecting the young woman with campus resources. Tye also jumped into action and helped a student secure additional financial support when she was at risk of withdrawing due to unforeseen circumstances that were going to affect her ability to student teach.

Tye's efforts as an advisor have been recognized numerous times at UCM, as she was named an Outstanding Academic Advising Award Finalist in 2021, 2023 and 2024.

Tye values service to the UCM community. She is a member of various Faculty Senate subcommittees, including Curriculum and Faculty Personnel Policies, and has been involved with search committees, University Kickoff and the First-Year Experience. At the college level, she serves on several committees and is chair of the Teacher Education Council. She has spearheaded many initiatives in the College of Education to support student success, academic excellence, recruitment and retention, including the Grow Your Own Paraprofessional program.

UCM colleagues said Tye partners her leadership role with her deep institutional knowledge and innovative thinking, striving to support effective teacher education through forward thinking. Student success is at the heart of Dr. Tye's mission, and she models high standards in academic excellence for students and faculty members.

In addition to her work at UCM, Tye conducts her own research and scholarly activities, including sharing the positive outcomes from the program's dynamic teaching models on the national stage.

As she strives to continuously improve her own teaching, Tye seeks professional development and requests feedback from her students. Students consistently speak highly of her effective communication, her level of planning and her strong desire to help them succeed.

THE PRESIDENTIAL MEDALLION

The University of Central Missouri's Presidential Medallion was introduced during the inauguration ceremony for UCM's 16th president Dr. Roger J. Best on April 18, 2019. Designed by staff in the Office of Integrated Marketing and Communications, the nickel silver, antique finish medallion features as the central focal piece a three-inch in diameter round medal that includes the university's academic logo with the year of the institution's founding in 1871, and the motto "Education for Service." Other components include two 1.5-inch diameter university seals, and curved banners that are linked together and list the names of each university president who served the institution since its founding and their years of service. The medallion is to be worn at ceremonial functions including commencement ceremonies.

THE UNIVERSITY MACE

The University Mace was designed and produced for the inauguration of Dr. Ed Elliott as president in 1985.

As a historical note, maces were first used during Roman times. The first mace was a weapon-like staff, composed of a group of reeds surrounding an axe. Mace bearers would walk in front of the person in authority. Maces were later used in England, again as symbols of authority in the court systems. The staff was carried by a judge or transported for him by a mace bearer. As the American court system developed from the English courts, the mace also became a symbol of authority in America.

The University of Central Missouri's mace is made of native walnut and bronze, and is topped with a somewhat stylized flame, which, like light, stands for truth and knowledge. Beneath the flame are inlaid disks of cardinal and black, the university colors. Continuing down the mace, a large sphere is decorated with carvings of major buildings on campus. Holding the ball are simple finger-like formations, which stand for service. The reeding, or half-columns, on the mace symbolizes tradition in education and togetherness – small parts working together to support the whole. Bronze books and mortarboards with tassels are symbols of academia and education, and bronze casts of Missouri represent UCM's home state and the citizens it serves. The handle of the mace is spiraled, which denotes growth and progression. The mace, completed with a hand-rubbed oil finish, weighs approximately 14 pounds.

The base for the staff is bronze and weighs close to 20 pounds. It is adorned with centennial medallions and Missouri mules in harness, denoting the reliable, workaday university mascot.

When not used for ceremonial purposes, the mace stands in its base in the Office of the President. The University Mace is carried at ceremonial functions by the university marshal, who precedes the university president in the processional. By tradition at the University of Central Missouri, the university marshal is the president of the Faculty Senate.

The construction of the mace was a team effort. Board of Regents member Edna Mae Whitsitt contacted Rich Monson of the Art Department for design assistance. Monson developed several designs, and a committee consisting of Ophelia Gilbert, Alice Gower, Monson, Norma Van Zee, and Whitsitt, selected the design to be used. Jack Landers, faculty member in the Department of Manufacturing and Construction, built the walnut core of the mace. Monson and Richard Allman, Art Department, cast and assembled the bronze pieces. Robert Tompkins, Department of Physical Education, carved the frieze, and Joseph Albrecht, Manufacturing and Construction, fashioned a bronze stem to join a base that was cast by Monson and George Sample, Art Department. Additional assistance was provided by art faculty members Jerry Miller, Harold Reynolds and Billi Rothove.

ACADEMIC REGALIA

Academic regalia of robe and hood are believed to have had their beginnings at the English universities of Oxford and Cambridge during the 12th and 13th centuries. The hoods are a carryover from the times when the monks, who operated the universities, wore them to protect their shaved heads in winter or to collect alms when worn as shoulder capes.

Use of the academic robe came to the United States in 1754 with the founding of what is now Columbia University. In 1895, a commission of university officials adopted a universal code of design and color for academic garb. It has undergone various revisions, the latest in 1960. Styling of robes varies for the bachelor's, master's, education specialist and doctoral degrees and the width of border and length of hood increase with the type of degree. The color of the velvet border of the hood indicates the field of study, while the lining designates the colors of the institution granting the degree. The gown for the bachelor's degree has pointed sleeves and is worn closed. The gown for the master's degree and the education specialist degree has an oblong sleeve, open at the wrist with the rear part of its oblong shape square cut and the front part with an arc cutaway. It may be worn open or closed.

The doctoral gown is faced with black velvet and has three bars across the bell-shaped sleeves. These facings and crossbars may be of colored velvet to represent the degree, and agree in color with the binding or edging of the hood. The tassel for the cap may be of gold thread.

SPRING 2025 GRADUATE DEGREE CANDIDATES

The following candidates for graduate degrees have met academic requirements, pending final verification, and are eligible to participate in Spring 2025 Commencement exercises at UCM.

SPRING 2025 UNDERGRADUATE ACADEMIC HONORS

One of the most cherished goals an undergraduate student can attain while completing the baccalaureate degree is to graduate with academic honors. To be eligible for graduation with honors a student must have earned a cumulative grade point average of 3.50 and must have completed a minimum of 30 semester hours of credit at the University of Central Missouri with a grade average of 3.50. Those with a grade point averages of 3.50 to 3.74 graduate Cum Laude; 3.75 to 3.84, Magna Cum Laude; and 3.85 and above Summa Cum Laude, based on whichever GPA is lower, their cumulative GPA or their GPA at UCM.

HONORS COLLEGE GRADUATES

Established in 1958 with just 12 students, The Honors College at the University of Central Missouri is the second-oldest program of its kind west of the Mississippi. Since its founding, it has cultivated a tradition of academic excellence, intellectual curiosity, and service.

Honors students engage in a rigorous, interdisciplinary curriculum that includes small honors-only courses, dynamic colloquia, and a faculty-mentored capstone research or creative project that represents the culmination of their studies at UCM.

Graduates of The Honors College have maintained a minimum 3.25 GPA and completed enriched academic work that is measurably broader, deeper, and more complex than typical undergraduate pathways. These high-impact learning experiences reflect national honors standards and UCM's commitment to its core values and enduring motto: Education for Service.

They now join a distinguished community of scholars who continue to redefine what's possible.

The Honors College graduates are:

Sydney Elise Agovino
Catherine S. Cooper
Elizabeth Jane East
Hannah Marie Eikermann
Emma Kathryn Fischer
Leia Moon Goodwin

Hailey J. Greenfield
Jacob James Grider
Marie Raylynn Hall

THRIVE CERTIFICATE PROGRAM

THRIVE is an innovative, two-year certificate program designed to assist college-age students with intellectual and developmental disabilities to become independent, self-sufficient members of their community. The THRIVE acronym represents the six threads of the self-determination program: Transformation, Health, Responsibility, Independence, Vocation, and Education.

The students receiving their certificates during the May 2025 commencement exercises are the 14th class to successfully complete the program at UCM. These students are:

Emma Anne Boehm
Kiernan Aleeya Feisel
Gabriel Gordon Gray

Ronan Elliot James-Estenson
Kathryn Alannah Morrison
Ally Elizabeth Steed

Dakota Joshua Thill
Martin J. Thompson
Trevor Lee Vail

RECOGNITION OF ARMY ROTC DISTINGUISHED MILITARY GRADUATES

Recognition as an ROTC Distinguished Military Graduate is an honor given only to those cadets named among the top 20 percent of individuals on the U.S. Army Cadet Command's National Order of Merit List. The command, located at Fort Knox, Kentucky, is the only authorized entity to select these commissioned officers. This achievement is also the only accomplishment that carries over for a commissioned officer into his/her professional military record and is an indicator of academic achievement to future promotions boards.

The cadet's cumulative GPA, success on the Army Physical Fitness Test, completion of ROTC's Senior Division Advanced Course, community service, and graduation with a baccalaureate degree are considered for this honor.

UCM's ROTC Distinguished Military Graduates:

2nd Lt. Caleb Daniel Barbour

2nd Lt. Bryan W. O'Barr Jr.

Madelyn Renee Taylor

UNIVERSITY OF CENTRAL MISSOURI ALMA MATER

Words by Mrs. Carole Grainger Gilbody, Music by Dr. William S. Stoney

UCM stands proud and noble,
Serving all who ask,
In the center of the nation
Joyful in her task;
Red and black her colors fly;
Faith and vision, dreams unite
Leading all who look for truth
To hold her honor bright,
Our beloved alma mater,
Hail to UCM.

UCM the chimes are calling,
Hear their joyful sound,
In our hearts their echoes falling,
While we gather 'round,
Striving on with purpose clear,
Loyal to the school we love,
Let us never falter
While your banner flies above,
Our beloved alma mater,
Hail to UCM.
