Warrensburg, MO—The men of Alpha Tau Omega (ATO) at the University of Central Missouri will host a softball tournament to benefit Habitat for Humanity on April 19, 2009.

ATO is pleased to host the 4th annual “Batting for Habitat” softball fundraiser. Although the event is open to Greeks only for registration, the community is welcome to come out and enjoy the games. Play will begin around noon on April 19 at the UCM South Recreation Complex fields. A portion of the registration fee will benefit Habitat for Humanity.

ATO supports Habitat as their main philanthropic project and gives regular donations to the cause; this month, the men donated $1,000 dollars and hope to give another donation after the fundraiser next month. Through the organization, families in need are provided with decent and affordable housing. “The main focus of this event is really about raising money for Habitat,” said Andy Couch of ATO, “but it’s also a great way for Greeks to get outside and have some fun together.”

From April 13 -17, ATO will be camping out in front of the Union in boxes and accepting contributions in support of Habitat for Humanity. The men are also accepting donations and sponsorship for the softball tournament. To inquire about donating to the cause, contact Andy Couch of ATO at asc57830@ucmo.edu.

Alpha Tau Omega was chartered at the University of Central Missouri in 1992. For more information about Greek Life at UCM, contact Kelly Waldram Cramer, Marketing Manager for Housing, at 660-543-8121 or waldram@ucmo.edu.
