Warrensburg, MO—The men of Sigma Pi held their first Firefighter Appreciation Day this month. The men visited the Warrensburg Department 2 station where they learned about fire safety, participated in a fire simulator exercise, toured the station, and got to know the firefighters.

The men of Sigma Pi made lunch and dinner for the firefighters to show their appreciation. Sigma Pi president Andrew Clements stated, “We just wanted to give back to the firefighters. We wanted to let them know that we know how important they are and show our appreciation for everything they do.”

While this was their first Firefighter Appreciation Day, Clements said it wouldn’t be their last. “It was such a great experience. We had a great turn-out. Everyone really enjoyed themselves and we definitely want to make this an annual event.”

Sigma Pi was chartered at UCM in 1962. For more information on UCM Greek Life, contact Kelly Waldrum Cramer, University Housing Marketing Manager, at 660-543-8121.
