Greek Recruitment

Sorority and Fraternity recruitment is a great way for your student to meet people on campus and find their strengths. Through events hosted by chapters, students have the opportunity to discover the 24 different communities at the University of Central Missouri to find the best fit for them. All require a 2.5 cumulative GPA.

- National Panhellenic Council (NPC): August 26-29 formal fall recruitment, see website for specific dates
- Interfraternity Council (IFC): Fraternity recruitment occurs year-round, with a variety of events held throughout the year
- National Pan-Hellenic Council (NPHC): Recruitment occurs year-round, with focus on membership intake during spring semester

With over 20 national social Greek letter organizations, and over 85 years of experience at UCM, Greek life has been pointing students in the right direction to:

ACHIEVE ACADEMIC EXCELLENCE

The Greek grade point average is higher than the overall UCM student grade point average; and over 20% of UCM Greek members are on the Dean’s list each semester.

EARN SCHOLARSHIPS

Most Greek chapters, as well as the overall Greek community, offer scholarships. Also, Greek chapters encourage high grade point averages, which make it easier to earn non-Greek scholarships.

DEVELOP LEADERSHIP SKILLS

Greek life offers extraordinary leadership opportunities. Chapters are self-governing bodies that provide a hands-on experience. Many Greeks also hold positions in notable student organizations. In fact, several student government presidents and winners of the Charno Award, which recognizes the one outstanding male and female graduate of the year, have been Greek.

NETWORK FOR FUTURE CAREER

Greek life members share the Greek experience with thousands of other men and women across the country. This provides Greek students with contacts across the nation and exposure to career opportunities.

ENHANCE CHARACTER & SERVICE DEVELOPMENT

In the Greek community, students learn about themselves, serve others, and prepare to be civic leaders of tomorrow. Each year, UCM’s Greek students raise over $20,000 for various philanthropies and perform 15,000 service hours.

HAZING POLICY

The University of Central Missouri has a no tolerance policy in regard to hazing. UCM will not ignore any reported cases of suspected hazing. Within the Greek community the university’s hazing policy is distributed to all organizations and their members at the beginning of each semester. Any allegations of hazing made against an individual and/or an organization will be cause for the university to begin its investigative process. Potential punishment could result in suspension from the university for individuals found involved or responsible organizations.

Housing

NPC (National Panhellenic Council):
On-campus is housing provided in Panhellenic. The housing is upperclass, suite-style, & requires a meal plan.

IFC (Interfraternity Council):
Most fraternities reside in University-owned and managed housing at the Fraternity Complex. The Fraternity Complex is an upper class housing facility; first-year student members reside in traditional residence halls. Members residing at the Fraternity Complex complete the Residence Hall Agreement the same as all other residents on campus and are billed via the University bill.

There are a some fraternities who reside off campus. First-year students are not allowed by University policy to reside in an off-campus fraternity house.

To learn more about housing locations please visit the Greek Life web pages.

NPHC (National Pan-Hellenic Council):
On campus chapter meeting & hangout space is provided. Students choose where to live.

AFFORDABILITY

Like any club a student may join at UCM, fees are associated with being Greek. Unlike other clubs, after the student graduates, he/she is a lifetime member of that Greek organization, continuing the benefits of being Greek. You will find that each chapter at UCM will provide payment plan options to meet every member’s needs, so don’t let cost get in the way of all of the opportunities being Greek can provide.
