Award-winning visual artist and puppeteer Joseph Cashore has been designing and performing his remarkable marionettes for over 30 years. His tailored performances provide an entertaining vision of human life through everyday situations and is effective for all children ages 8 & up, including at-risk children with emotional or communication problems. Using the provided 11-page study guide and observing how the characters deal with challenges and situations - teachers, counselors and students are then able to open a dialog about their observations of the presentation. Set to beautiful classic music, these one-of-a-kind performances create a compelling and unforgettable experience.
